

Independent Service Quality Survey

Detailed methodology - Business current account

This section provides more detailed information on the methodology that has been applied to this survey for business current accounts (BCAs).

Background

In November 2014, the Competition and Markets Authority (CMA) board made a reference for a market investigation into the supply of retail banking services to personal current account customers and to small and medium-sized enterprises (SMEs*) in the United Kingdom (the market investigation).

In August 2016 the CMA published its report on the market investigation, entitled 'Retail Banking market investigation: Final report' (the Final Report) and in February 2017 the CMA published 'The Retail Banking Market Investigation Order 2017' (the CMA Order).

Under Part 3 of the above Order, an independent survey is required to be conducted to ask customers of the largest business current account providers in Great Britain and in Northern Ireland if they would recommend their provider to other small and medium-sized enterprises (SMEs). See lists of participating providers below.

Sampling

The survey is based on a random probability sample of each provider's customers. Providers have supplied a breakdown of their qualifying customer base by region, sector, turnover and small and medium-sized enterprises (SMEs) / Clubs, Charities and Societies (CC&S) so BVA BDRC can check that survey samples submitted by each provider are representative of each provider's total qualifying customer base.

Data collection and volumes

Interviewing is conducted on a continuous basis for all brands throughout the fieldwork period. Data collection is by computer assisted telephone interviewing (CATI).

The annual survey aims to achieve 1,200 respondents per provider for Great Britain and 600 per provider for Northern Ireland. Quota controls are set to ensure that for each provider the achieved sample is representative by sector, region, turnover and SME /CC&S.

The questionnaire & results

The questionnaire asks respondents how likely they are to recommend their business account provider for each of the following:

- Overall service
- Relationship and Account Management
- Online and mobile banking
- Branch and Business Centre services
- Overdraft and loan facilities

For each recommendation question results are in the form of the percentage saying that they were "extremely likely" or "very likely" to recommend the provider. Percentages will be calculated by excluding those who answered "don't know", "no experience" and also excluding those who had not used that service in the past 12 months (except for Overall Service where there is no timeframe applied).

Where providers score equally in terms of the percentages based on whole numbers, these will be shown as scoring equally, but in order to create a position in a list they will be positioned according to their percentage calculated by using two or more decimal points.

Results are weighted by size, region and sector to represent the overall customer profile of each provider.

Publication of results

The first set of service quality indicators was published by all Providers on 15 August 2018 falling six weeks after all the data, incorporating results from October 2017 (at the latest) to June 2018, was collected.

The service quality indicators are updated on the first Working Day after 14 February and 14 August each year based on data collected on a rolling basis over the 12 months from, respectively:

- the beginning of January to the end of December of the previous calendar year; and
- the beginning of July to the end of June incorporating six months of results from the previous calendar year and six months from the prevailing calendar year.
